

Child's and parents' rights and obligations

Child's and parents' rights and obligations

Publisher

©Centre for Education Initiatives, 2017

Illustrator – EVELINA ELKSNITE [EVELĪNA ELKSNĪTE]

All rights reserved.

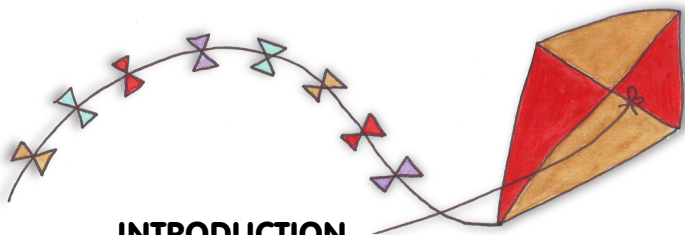

Not any part of this publication is allowed to be re-issued or remodelled without permission of the publisher.

The book is based on:

The Convention of the Rights of the Child (20.11.1989)

Protection of the Rights of the Child Law (19.06.1998)

Education Law (29.10.1998)

INTRODUCTION

Children are special gift for their parents. They bring in a lot of joy in the family but also a great responsibility for their parents. Children are unable to defend themselves, so one of the parents' most important tasks is to protect their children in different situations.

In order to be able to defend children and family more efficiently, it is important to know the rights and responsibilities of children and parents.

In this book the most important children and parents' rights and obligations under the international and Latvian law are collected and presented in an easy and comprehensible way.

We hope that this material will help children grow healthy and happy in loving families. In turn, this will help parents to care for their children even better and become great defenders of their children's rights.

Centre for Education Initiatives

All human beings are equal.
Boys and girls have equal rights.

Parents and the State ensure protection for the children, because they cannot defend themselves. Parents are the main child's rights advocates.
